

Scientific Challenges

A scientific challenge allows the emergence of innovative topics and the reduction of technological barriers.

These teams of 3 to 4 scientists are also invited to promote interdisciplinarity and the dissemination of information.

The combination of a reduced teaching workload, two doctoral and post-doctoral projects, and the choice of subjects that promote transdisciplinarity allow for a rapid production of results.